FOREWORD

THIS book is published that the people of Everett may have in permanent form, to retain and cherish, the ROLL OF HONOR of sons and daughters of the city who have given their services to Our Country during our participation in the World War, and a record, historically correct and as complete and perfect as it has been possible to make it, of their own loyalty and intent to excel in patriotic service. The proof of this is in the detailed accounts of Everett War Activities.

The ROLL OF HONOR has been compiled from all available sources. The intention of the Committee has been to have the list complete. It is possible that there may be a few duplications in names or addresses, but to omit any name in case of doubt, might make possible the failure to honor some one to whom honor is due. Such names have on this account been included.

The hearty appreciation of the Committee is hereby extended to those whose willingness to work has made the publication of the Service List possible at this time, and to the business and professional men whose loyal and patriotic spirit as shown in the advertising pages, has contributed so much to the success of this book.

To Mr. J. Henry Clagg, whose unremitting labors from April, 1917 are shown in the completeness of the ROLL OF HONOR, and to Mr. Elmer E. Spear, whose assistance in the selection and compilation of other material in this book has been most valuable, due recognition and thanks are hereby given.

WELCOME HOME COMMITTEE

In Flanders Fields

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the Crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns
below.

We are the dead! short days ago we lived,
Felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
the torch—
Be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies
grow
In Flanders fields."

America's Answer

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders
dead,
The fight that ye so bravely led
We've taken up, and we will keep
True faith with you who lie asleep,
With each a cross to mark his bed,
And poppies blowing overhead,
Where once his own life blood ran red—
So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us we caught,
Ten million hands will hold it high,
And Freedom's light shall never die!
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders fields.

MEDAL OF HONOR (U.S.)

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS (U.S.)

Army Regulations. Article XXV.

"182. Medals of honor authorized by Congress are awarded to officers and enlisted men in the name of the Congress for particular deeds of most distinguished gallantry in action.

"1. In order that the medal of honor may be awarded, officers or enlisted men must perform in action deeds of most distinguished personal bravery or self sacrifice above and beyond the call of duty so conspicuous as clearly to distinguish them for gallantry and intrepidity above their comrades, involving risk of life or the performance of more than ordinarily hazardous service, and the omission of which would not justly subject the person to censure as for shortcoming or failure in the performance of his duty. The recommendations for the medal will be judged by this standard of extraordinary merit, and incontestable proof of the performance of the service will be exacted."

CROIX DE GUERRE (French)

The value of the Croix de Guerre is enhanced by the recent announcement of the War Department that only 474 persons, — 119 officers and 275 men — "while in the military or naval service of the United States have been awarded the French Croix de Guerre and are authorized to wear that decoration or a ribbon thereof."

Two of the prized Distinguished Service Crosses, and at least three of the equally prized Croix de Guerre were awarded to Sons of Everett. Who these brave men are, and the stories of their valor may be found in the following pages.

Many more brave men of this city have been cited in General Orders for gallantry in action, and each "name and deed inscribed in the records" of the organization to which each man belonged.

The City of Everett, desirous of showing her pride in all her sons who have gone forth for War Service, and of expressing to each one personally that meed of appreciation due her representatives, has arranged, through the Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and Common Council, the representative government of the city, to present a War Service medal to each one of those whom the City is fortunate enough to have back as her citizens, and to the families of those who have paid the great price.

LIEUTENANT JOSEPH FRITZ WEHNER

Lieut. Joseph Fritz Wehner, the "Unsung Ace" of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, winner of the Distinguished Service Cross and the highly prized medal of the Aero Club of America, died while protecting his flying partner, Lieut. Frank Luke, of Phoenix, Arizona, fighting eight Hun planes and bringing down two before he was killed in action over the battle lines north of Verdun.

Lieut. Joseph Fritz Wehner was born in Everett, September 20, 1895. Educated in the public schools of this city, he graduated from the High School in June, 1914.

Upon his graduation he planned a trip to Europe and worked his way to England. Caught in the storm of war in August, he reported at the American Embassy and served in relief of stranded Americans. Later, he returned home and attended Phillips Exeter Academy two years.

Leaving Exeter he went to Germany in the summer of 1916 as a Y. M. C. A. worker. At the severance of diplomatic relations he was in Berlin. He came home with Ambassador Gerard's party.

A month after his return he enlisted in the Aviation Corps, training at Austin Field, Texas, and Scott Field, Ill. In January, 1918, he went overseas.

CORPORAL CARL S. LUND

Distinguished Service Cross

Son of Joseph Lund of New Bedford. Aged, 22 years. Residence, 65 Ferry Street.

Enlisted March, 1917, in Roxbury Horse Guards (Troop D).

Entered War Service July 25, 1917.

Sailed overseas with 102d Machine Gun Battalion.

Drove truck in Supply Train to front line when 26th Division first went into action, having many narrow escapes at "Dead Man's Curve." Was "gassed" once.

Awarded Distinguished Service Cross. Citation accompanying Cross follows:—"For extraordinary heroism in action near Mouilly, France, Sept. 12, 1918. At great risk of his own life from machine-gun fire at close range, Private Lund volunteered and went to the aid of a wounded comrade, bandaged his wounds and helped him to a place of safety."

Corporal Lund died March 13, 1919, of pneumonia in France.

SERGT. JOHN C. GRAMSTORFF

(Croix de Guerre)

Sergeant John C. Gramstorff, a former member of Co. B, 8th Regt. M. N. G., is the only Everett man in the army who has come home to read his own obituaries. Reported officially as "Killed in action, Aug. 20," memorial services were arranged in honor of his memory. On the eve of the service word was received that there was some doubt about his death, and soon afterward he arrived home, detailed as an instructor in a Southern Camp, and declared that the reports of his death were "grossly exaggerated." He had not been even wounded.

He returned wearing the Croix de Guerre, awarded him for exceptional bravery on April 28, when he led a "mopping up" party.

Sergeant Gramstorff is 24 years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian E. Gramstorff of Bellingham Avenue, West Everett. It is interesting to note that Sergeant Gramstorff is of German descent, his father having been born in Hamburg, Germany, and his mother in Plymouth, Mass., of German parentage. No more staunch Americans lived in Everett, however, and besides Sergeant Gramstorff, they had two other sons in the service of Uncle Sam.

Besides winning the Croix de Guerre, Sergeant Gramstorff was cited three times, twice by Maj.-Gen. Edwards and once by Gen. Pershing.

(Croix de Guerre)

Enlisted in Co. B, 8th Regt. M. V. M., April 6, 1914.

Served on Mexican Border, summer of 1916.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall of 12 George Street, Everett. 24 years old.

Served with Co. F, 104th Inf. 26th Division throughout war.

Awarded Croix de Guerre by French Government, which he received at Camp Devens from hand of Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, April 22, 1919.

The citation accompanying the medal is as follows:—

First Sergt. Charles S. Marshall, Co. F, 104th Infantry — "Distinguished himself by his devotion to duty during operations in the Bois Belieu, north of Verdun, in October, 1918. Went voluntarily in search of a severely wounded comrade under enemy fire, and with total disregard of danger brought him to a place of safety."

Sergeant Marshall was also cited by General Edwards for gallant conduct November 8-11, 1918.

SERGEANT JOHN C. GRAMSTORFF

PRIVATE VICTOR C. FRIESE

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Friese. Born in Melrose, September 3, 1891. Enlisted in Co. B, 8th Regt. M. V. M., 1909. Discharged, 1913. Re-enlisted in July, 1917, at Lynnfield, Mass., Camp Houston, in Co. B. Sailed overseas with Co. F, 104th Inf. Wounded in action April 13, 1918, after refusing to take refuge in a dugout with his comrades. He said, "Someone must stick around." Crawled into dugout and received first aid. Under fire 14 hours and could not be moved. Was cited by the French and awarded the Croix de Guerre.

CHARLES HENRY DAVIS
(Croix de Guerre)

Enlisted, June 9, 1917.
Sailed Overseas, December 30, 1917.
Served with French Foreign Legion.
Awarded Croix de Guerre, June 18, 1918.

The citation accompanying the Croix de Guerre is as follows:—

"Being on service during the night of the 18th of June, 1918, he accomplished the removal of numerous wounded under violent bombardment, crossing several times through the barrage of gas, thus showing his coolness and his courageous devotion to duty. — At General Headquarters of the Army of the North and the Northeast. Nov. 12, 1918. General Commander in Chief, Petain."

CAPTAIN ALBERT E. DAVIES, M. C.

24 October, 1915. Enlisted Canadian Service.

28 November, 1917. Commissioned 2nd Lieut.

17 August, 1918. Awarded Military Cross, Commissioned 1st Lieut.

November, 1918. Commissioned Captain. Served overseas.

ALEXANDER YOUNG

First Everett man to go into War Service. Left home in September, 1914. Enlisted in Liverpool in the Royal Engineers. His is the longest continuous War record of any man from this city. Served over four years in the front line, taking part in the following battles: Loos, Somme 1916, Ploegstreet, Messines Ridge, Veerstarte, Ypres, 2nd Battle of the Somme 1917, Cambrai, Achetta la Petite, Achetta la Grand, Canal du Nord, Sencee River, Selee River, Mons, Barstre.

ONE of the great surprises to many men as they picked up their daily newspapers, was the names of those who went to make up our great American army. Column after column was filled with names showing British, French, Italian, Jewish, Swedish, Greek, Polish, Lithuanian, yes even German ancestry. A few such names had been expected but there were thousands and hundreds of thousands. Great as was the surprise of the average man at reading these lists with their foreign-sounding names, greater still was his surprise at seeing the men who bore them. When our troops came down the street, in squads, platoons and companies, there were only strong, stalwart, sturdy, proud AMERICANS! The names might be foreign, but those who bore them were American from the toes of their broad army shoes to the peaks of their broad-brimmed army hats. And many a man as he watched the proudly marching columns had an inner thrill of exultation that the war has performed this miracle. It has removed the hyphen! It has made a melting pot mixing the best traits of all nations into the pure gold of AMERICANISM.

The war is over. Our efforts have contributed much to make over the world. Let us realize that America will be a better place to live in. Whatever our ancestry, WE are Americans! Let us put our shoulders to the wheel and complete the great work of doing for the nation as a whole what the war has done for the soldier.

NEW ENGLAND'S OWN

There's a sound that swells to the listening sky, and breaks, and swells again —
A sound to the April breezes blown of a host of marching men;
And the people's hearts lift up to hear, and the city's gates swing wide
To the tramp of twenty thousand strong, the beat of a tawny tide.
They come, they come with the throbbing drum! Let the glad word be known!
Fling the flags to the four free winds, and greet New England's Own!

These were the eager-hearted ones when first the bugles blew;
The clean north winds had swept their souls before the war-flags flew.
They set their faces like the flint of the old north country hills;
They pledged their manhood without stint, and their young, intrepid wills,
They did not stay for the perilous way. Forward! their cry was thrown;
Stout hearts might well have faltered then — but not New England's Own!

They caught the spurt of the first red stars that flamed the battle sign;
They gave their bodies as iron bars to weld the battle line;
Aisne-Marne, Chavignon, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne — east and west —
The old strange names, familiar now as heart-beats in each breast,
And keen with memories of those they left to sleep alone,
Dust to dust in an alien land, yet still New England's Own.

They dreamed the dreams of peace and youth, but when the storm was rife
They counted comfort less than truth and honor more than life.
Each with his starry flag above, his weapon in his hand,
Fought for earth's liberty, and love, and his own dear native land;
Walked blindly in the smoking ways, that the light his eyes had known
Might never perish from the shore that sent New England's Own.

There's a sound that swells in the April air till it shakes the market-place —
The tread of a host of marching men who have looked death in the face;
Who have staggered back from the brink of hell to find the world still sweet
And the dust of God's own country gray once more upon their feet.
They come, they come with the throbbing drum! Let the high flag be flown —
The flag they shed their blood to keep, and kept — New England's Own!

LOCAL BOARD FOR THE CITY OF EVERETT

THE SELECTIVE SERVICE LAW

THE Selective Service Law, passed May 18, 1917, provided that all men between the ages of 21 and 30, inclusive, should register for military service on June 5, 1917. By later amendments the ages were extended both upward and downward. Registrations were held as follows:

June 5, 1917, for men 21 to 30 years old, inclusive, numbering, in Everett, 3635 men.

June 5, 1918, for men who had reached 21 since June 5, 1917, numbering 336 men.

August 9, 1918, for men who had reached 21 since June 5, 1918, numbering 52 men.

September 12, 1918, for all men between 18 and 45, inclusive, who had not been previously registered, numbering 4683 men.

The total number of men registered in all the registrations was 8706.

Men from this city entered the military service for this war in five principal groups:

1. Men within the draft ages as defined by law, who were already in active service prior to registration, and were not subject to registration. This group comprised the National Guard and the men of the Regular Army and Navy.

2. Men either above or below the draft ages, who volunteered, mostly early in the war.

3. Men of military age, whose circumstances warranted full exemption from military service, but who, often at great sacrifice, declined to use such exemptions and volunteered for service.

4. Men of military age, registered under the Selective Service Law, who availed themselves of opportunities from time to time to enter branches of the service which they specially preferred.

5. Men of military age who were content to serve in any capacity to which they might be assigned when their number was called.

Of the men in the first two groups, not being registered, the Exemption Board had no record, but the number is large. Of those subject to registration, the Board's record showed that 1210 men had entered the service during the war. In addition, 186 men, mostly from the last registration, were ready and waiting for entrainment to camp when the armistice was signed.

The execution of the Selective Service Law was entrusted by the Government to local agencies throughout the country. In each community a local exemption board was appointed and various auxiliary bodies were formed to assist in the work of raising and preparing a great national army. The fact that this law, the most drastic and far-reaching ever passed in this country, was carried out with the active participation and supervision of the very persons most affected by it, furnished a splendid example of the possibilities of democratic government. The thought is strikingly phrased by Provost Marshal General Crowder in his report to the Secretary of War on the first draft, in which he said, "The vaunted efficiency of which the German Empire stands as the avatar can offer nothing to compare with it. It remains the ultimate test and proof of the intrinsic political idea upon which American institutions of democracy and local self-government are based."

The selective service organization in this city was as follows:

Besides those formally appointed and sworn into office, a great many citizens contributed invaluable services in the execution of the Selective Service Law in this city. These included volunteer dental assistants who gave free dental treatment to men about to be called for service; the teachers who assisted the Legal Advisory Board in the important work during the trying days and nights of the questionnaire periods; the teachers who assumed the task of making an industrial index for the Provost Marshal General's office; the business and professional men who served as registrars and otherwise gave their assistance on registration days; the High School pupils who freely gave their services assisting the Exemption Board office force in the tremendous pressure of clerical work incidental to the questionnaire and registration periods; and the State Guard, many of whose officers and men assisted in the work of registration, and whose officers regularly assisted in the mobilization from this city.

BELGIUM

By EDEN PHILLPOTTS

CHAMPION of human honor, let us lave
Your feet and bind your wounds on bended knee.
Though coward hands have nailed you to the tree
And shed your innocent blood and dug your grave,
Rejoice and live! Your oriflamme shall wave —
While man has power to perish and be free —
A golden flame of holiest Liberty,
Proud as the dawn and as the sunset brave.

BELGIUM, where dwelleth reverence for right
Enthroned above all ideals; where your fate
And your supernal patience and your might
Most sacred grow in human estimate,
You shine a star above this stormy night
Little no more, but infinitely great.

Everett's Answer Financially

How Everett Backed Her Boys With Her Dollars

IN the first two Liberty Loans in which the public were asked to subscribe, no quotas were given, but in the third, fourth and fifth loans a quota basis was established. The following table gives in detail the amounts raised:

	Quota	Subscribed
First Loan	————	$897,450.00
Second Loan	————	949,700.00
Third Loan	$751,500.00	890,650.00
Fourth Loan	1,402,000.00	1,522,600.00
Fifth Loan	1,051,500.00	1,270,800.00
		$5,531,200.00

More than $5,500,000 was loaned by Everett people and its industries to their government in its time of need, which represented more than the aggregate of her banking resources. This remarkable record was made possible by the splendid spirit of the people, the unselfish service of its banking institutions, and the untiring efforts of every member of the Liberty Loan Committee and voluntary workers.

Special praise should be given the Women's Committee. Their services were very valuable in connection with the house-to-house canvass which was made successful only through their untiring efforts.

Everett can well be proud of her boys and of her dollars, for no city can boast of a better record.

EVERETT BRANCH AMERICAN RED CROSS

AT a meeting held on the evening of December 19, 1917, the following citizens of Everett voted unanimously to petition for authority to form a branch of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of American Red Cross to be known as the Everett Branch, American Red Cross, and to have jurisdiction in the City of Everett: Rev. R. R. Hadley, Fairfield Whitney, Wilbur J. Rockwood, Andrew Berg, Andrew Lumsden, James Chambers, John G. Pollock, Dr. A. A. Jackson, Mrs. Carrie H. Moore, Mrs. Alice L. Hutchins, Mrs. B. M. Rowand, Mrs. Lydia A. Ladd, Miss Annie G. Hill, Frederick R. Clapp, George A. F. Perry.

On December 20, 1917, authority to form a Branch was granted and a certificate of organization was issued. On Sunday, December 23, 1917, a mass meeting was held in the Crown Theatre with Mr. Wilbur J. Rockwood as Chairman. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Honorary Chairman, General E. Leroy Sweetser; Chairman, Frederick E. Holden; Secretary, Frederick A. Ashley; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Edward E. Peasley; Treasurer, Andrew Lumsden; Executive Committee: J. Frederick Driscoll, Fairfield Whitney, Andrew Berg, Morris Silverstein, Mrs. Harry J. O'Brien, Miss M. E. Elder.

In January, Mayor Weeks gave the Branch the use of the rooms on the second floor of the Police Station for local headquarters. The rooms were fitted for use by the pupils of the Technical Department of the High School and on February 19, 1918, the Executive Committee held its first meeting in the new quarters.

Mrs. Frank F. Spaulding, who had been appointed Chairman of the Supply Committee and Official Buyer for the Branch, was now in a position to carry on the manufacture of Red Cross supplies. From about March 1, 1918 till April 1, 1919, Mrs. Spaulding and her workers have manufactured and shipped 10,421 pieces of Sewed and Knitted Articles and 53,757 pieces of Surgical Dressings.

Under Mr. George A. F. Perry's leadership, the Membership Committee enrolled for 1918, 6,785 members and for 1919, 6,714 members.

Since the organization of the Branch to the present time, the Entertainment Committee under the direction of Mr. George E. Hunt has conducted several entertainments from which substantial sums of money were received, and connected with this Committee, several churches and other organizations have made liberal donations of money raised by special entertainments for the benefit of the Branch.

On March 18, 1918, Mr. John K. Snyder, Chairman of the Collection of Clothing for Belgian Relief Committee, collected and shipped 1,845 articles; Mr. Henry N. Godbold on November 30, 1918, collected 1,290 articles for Belgian Relief, and on March 24, 1919, collected 413 articles for the relief of French Refugees.

Mrs. A. A. Nichols and Mrs. W. H. Nichols, Committee on Linen Drive, collected and shipped 211 pieces of linen.

Mrs. George E. Hutchins, Chairman of the Nursing Survey Committee, registered 103 nurses.

Mrs. Thomas L. Keefe, Chairman of the Christmas Parcels Committee, mailed 463 Christmas Boxes to the men overseas.

Under Mrs. George A. Brown's supervision a class of about 20 people are being instructed at the present time in Red Cross First Aid.

The Home Service Section of the Branch, Mr. Frederick E. Holden, Chairman, has and is doing effective work for the people of Everett. See further mention of Home Service Work by the Home Service Committee.

In mentioning the work of these several committees much praise might be given for their generous, honorable and patriotic service.

HOME SERVICE DEPARTMENT
EVERETT RED CROSS

WITH the departure of Everett's National Guard Company for active War service in July, 1917, the fact was driven home to Everett's citizens that large numbers of her sons would soon be leaving their homes and families, and that the discontinuance of part or all of some family incomes would make it imperative to provide for the continued welfare of the families left behind until readjustment should be accomplished

FRED E. HOLDEN
Chairman

The Home Service Department of the American Red Cross early came to the relief of this situation in Everett. In September, 1917, before the Everett Red Cross Chapter was separately organized, the Home Service Section was operating as a branch of the Metropolitan Chapter, of which the headquarters are at 142 Berkeley St., Boston.

As the men entered service in increasing numbers, and the need for careful organization and continued oversight became greater, it was decided to secure the services of an experienced Supervisor, and in February, 1918, Miss M. J. Bleakie was appointed Supervisor for the City of Everett.

In April, 1918, a committee was formed to assist the Supervisor in an advisory capacity. The members of this committee were: Mrs. Samuel Goudey, Chairman; Mrs. George A. Kyle, Secretary; Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, Mrs. Fred E. Holden, Mrs. Samuel Thurman, Mr. James D. Woodruff, Mr. Elmer E. Spear.

A meeting place was provided in one of the rooms at the Red Cross Headquarters over the Police Station but the work increased so rapidly that the Home Service soon outgrew its quarters and after moving twice is at present located at 433 Broadway, Room 4, where the office is open every week day except Saturday afternoon, and where advice and assistance is cheerfully given to all who call for it.

About 800 families have been given relief by the Everett Home Service. In many instances during the War money was advanced to families needing temporary relief to tide them over until delayed allotments or compensation payments were received. Much of this money has been paid back. A sum of about $8,000 was spent outright in relieving families in straitened circumstances. A corps of visitors, some of whom were paid workers, and others voluntary, conducted the great task of visiting and investigating cases called to the attention of the committee.

MRS. J. LEVERETT CHISHOLM

Information is given on all questions of compensation and insurance, allotments and allowances, non-payment of Liberty Bonds of men in service, and the hundreds of questions that perplex the soldier's mind and worry his family.

The original committee has been enlarged by the addition of the following members who meet once in two weeks to discuss the growth of the work and the changed conditions since the cessation of hostilities: Mr. Fred E. Holden, Mr. Elmore Andrews, Mr. John K. Snyder, Mr. Harry W. Johnson, Dr. Lester D. Chisholm, Mr. Daniel F. O'Grady, Mr. John T. Gregson, Rev. Richard H. McLaughlin, Mrs. Anna C. Dolan, Dr. Ralph W. McAllester, Mrs. Etta Chisholm.

Much of the credit for the efficient services rendered by the Home Service section in Everett belongs to Miss Bleakie who has given her entire time without compensation. Few cities have equalled and none excelled Everett in this branch of the work, while the expense of conducting the Home Service here has been much less than in other cities of equal size as a result of Miss Bleakie's public spiritedness and efficiency. From the very nature of the work the full extent of the good accomplished can never be known, but the gratitude of the individual families assisted is sufficient assurance to those in charge that their efforts have been productive and have contributed by relieving conditions at home in maintaining the morale which was so prominent a factor in winning the war.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY FOR AMERICAN PREPAREDNESS

THE Everett Branch of the Special Aid Society for American Preparedness has "been in service" for the soldiers ever since Everett men went to the Border.

With Mrs. B. M. Rowand, who has been Chairman for the past two years, the Everett Branch has been in reality a society for "Special Aid" whenever and wherever that aid has been desired. Long before America entered the war two far-sighted women, Mrs. Alexander of New York and Mrs. Barrett Wendell of Boston, in those grim days of danger and intrigue had the vision to realize — as few did at that time — that this country must inevitably join the war, and that we were tragically unprepared. From this feeling of urgent need of preparation for the future and desire to be of immediate service the Society was organized in 1915; it has been able to "carry on" in many vital and valuable "odd jobs," and to serve this country and its defenders on land and sea.

The Everett Branch, through Mrs. Rowand, has kept in close touch with Headquarters and worked loyally: First, for our own townsmen, then for soldiers and sailors wherever there was a call, and later for the unfortunate women and children of the devastated countries.

The Everett Branch has made all types of surgical dressings, sending them out through the Fund for French Wounded, the Chelsea Naval Hospital, the New England Surgical Dressings Committee, Italian War Relief, and met a particular emergency by supplying dressings to the transport "America" bringing wounded to Boston.

The Sewing department has made hundreds of pajama suits, convalescent robes and garments for women and children, some of which were sent to hospitals and others to distributing centres. The Everett Special Aid fitted out Everett soldiers with knitted garments — about 700 men in all — and several hundred woolen articles were sent to Headquarters to go wherever men needed their protection. Nearly thirty gay quilts and afghans were sent to hospitals. On July 3d the Special Aid Society presented the Massachusetts State Guard with a flag and standard. Books and money were contributed to Camp Libraries, and money for the Officers' House on Bay State Road and for the Wendell House in Boston. Like its enthusiastic Junior League, the Special Aid continued its work into March. The members of the Everett Branch stand ready to gather at any call; to serve again in any crisis that may rise; to work for and cherish the Country and the Ideals that our soldiers and sailors have so nobly and bravely defended.

JUNIOR SPECIAL AID

THE Junior Special Aid is the children's branch of the Special Aid Society for American Preparedness, which is both a State and National Society. At a meeting of the society held in October, 1917, it was voted to have a Junior League, and Mrs. Lottie C. Baldwin was appointed chairman. On January 26, 1918, Mrs. Baldwin invited a number of ladies to meet at Arcanum Hall to perfect plans for procuring members and raising money for war work. Mrs. Ada von Rosenvinge was appointed Secretary and Treasurer, a position which she has filled in a very efficient manner. It was decided to get as many children as possible to join the League and to provide coin holders for use in collecting money. When the holders, which contained ten dimes each, were turned in the amount collected was $241.00. A beautiful silk flag was presented to Marion MacKenzie for collecting the largest amount, $16.00, and a book to Norma Small for the second largest amount, $5.00. Of the amount raised at this time $100.00 was given to the Special Aid, and $50.00 in $1.00 money orders was sent overseas to fifty boys belonging to our old Company B. The membership increased until over 500 names were enrolled, Mrs. Macduff procuring the largest number. The children were ever ready to answer every call. They knitted hundreds of squares for afghans. One afghan was made entirely by Grace Cooper, 11 years of age, which with five others put together by Mrs. Gilson, were given to the Base Hospital at Camp Devens. They cut gun-wipes; collected tinfoil; made scrap books under the direction of Miss Badger; made dolls for the children in Belgium, under Mrs. Irish's supervision; sent flowers, fruit, smokes and chocolates to the Naval Hospital at Chelsea. On learning he had received no pay for five months, the children gave $5.00 to Corp. Charles Greenwood, a Marine who lost his leg at Belleau Wood and who was a patient at the Naval Hospital. They also sent him $5.00 at Christmas time, for which they received a most grateful acknowledgment. Meetings were held at intervals at High School Hall, and in the early fall of 1918, it was planned to hold a Tag Day for a Christmas fund for our Everett boys overseas. Although handicapped by the influenza epidemic, 167 children responded to the call for workers. A corps of ladies worked over two weeks preparing tags and caps. Mrs. Wilson, proprietor of the Prescott House, offered the use of the dining room for the work of preparation. On October 5th, the children appeared with their boxes, and headquarters were established at 469 Broadway, the use of the store being donated by the owner. Malcolm Gilson donated a patriotic poster for the window. Everett responded as never before, and the result was $1,129.00 collected. On November 18th and 19th, 490 letters, each containing a Christmas card with a $2.00 money order attached, left Everett and went overseas to our home boys. Some of the letters have never been heard from, others have been returned with various official marks, — "In hospital," "Cannot be located," "Returned to U. S. A.," "Deceased," etc., but 270 boys each wrote a letter of thanks; letters filled with appreciation for what the "kiddies" did for them, as many boys stated they had received no pay for months. One boy wrote that he took a furlough on the strength of his $2.00. The children of the Junior Special Aid are sure they will always be remembered by the boys they did not forget.

The Name of France

Give us a name to fill the mind
With the shining thoughts that lead mankind,
The glory of learning, the joy of art,—
A name that tells of a splendid part
In the long, long toil and the strenuous fight
Of the human race to win its way
From the feudal darkness into the day
Of Freedom, Brotherhood, Equal Right,—
A name like a star, a name of light.
I give you FRANCE!

Give us a name to stir the blood
With a warmer glow and a swifter flood,—
A name like the sound of a trumpet, clear,
And silver-sweet, and iron strong,
That calls three million men to their feet,
Ready to march, and steady to meet
The foes that threaten that name with wrong,—
A name that rings like a battle-song,
I give you FRANCE!

Give us a name to move the heart
With the strength that noble griefs impart,
A name that speaks of the blood outpoured
To save mankind from the sway of the sword,—
A name that calls on the world to share
In the burden of sacrificial strife,
Where the cause at stake is the world's free life
And the rule of the people everywhere,—
A name like a vow, a name like a prayer.
I give you FRANCE!

AMERICANIZATION!

BERNARD J. ROTHWELL

Chairman Massachusetts Bureau of Immigration

THIRTEEN and one-half million immigrants entered the United States in the fifteen years prior to the outbreak of the European war.

They came from every land under the sun — mainly from Southeastern Europe— they spoke all the tongues of Babel. Millions were illiterate in their native language.

Such vast numbers imposed upon Nation, State, City and Town an unprecedented problem, of which they knew little, and were wholly unprepared to solve.

As a result, foreign colonies were established and racial centres multiplied, until New York has more Italians than Rome, Philadelphia more than Florence, Chicago and Lowell more Greeks than many Grecian cities; and every city, and most towns, have their racial centres, in which the thought, language, politics, newspapers and periodicals are entirely those of the native land.

This segregation has been unfavorable for both native and foreign-born and has hindered that amalgamation which is essential to a unified nation.

For the foreign-born, it has perpetuated their lack of knowledge of our language, laws and customs, and has subjected them to exploitation, swindling and abuse which they, otherwise, would have escaped, and which has tended to make them distrustful of America and its institutions.

It has fostered the growth of intense racial sentiment and the continuation of old world animosities and prejudices. It has afforded opportunity for the vicious activities of unscrupulous agitators, who, speaking the only language these people know, often deliberately mislead them as to the purposes of their neighbors, employers and fellow-workmen. It has prevented direct language communication and the mutual understandings it would promote. It has prevented the earlier — English speaking — comers and their descendants from acquiring, through neighborly contact with these peoples, the highly important contribution from their broad cultural inheritance of much that would enrich our everyday life. It has blocked that interracial fusion upon which national solidarity depends.

The national well-being demands that these conditions shall promptly be changed — that these barriers shall be levelled — that the foreign-born shall have fair play and a full share in community activities — and that the slogan "America a One Language Nation," shall echo and re-echo throughout the land.

This does not mean that no other language shall be spoken — all may speak as many as they please — but it does mean that, so far as possible, every man, woman and child shall speak the common language of America, and that every school, private as well as public, must make its pupils proficient in the English language or close its doors.

A common language is absolutely essential to national unity. A polyglot nation cannot permanently endure. Its foundations are laid in shifting sands.

The solution of the problem of teaching English to foreign-born adults depends upon the co-operation and co-ordination of effort of the Nation, which should provide a large share of the necessary funds; the State, which should provide training of teachers, develop methods and prepare texts; the municipal school authorities, which should supervise the teaching and the results, and Industry, which should establish plant classes conducted during day hours.

THE HOME COMING

Back from the blasted scenes of war,
From Europe ruined by the Hun,
From battlefields o'er ocean far,
From Duty's task all nobly done;

From scenes of carnage, wreck, and hell,
Our gallant sons and fathers come,
Unto the land they love so well,
To peace and rest, to honored home.

Some come as gay and strong of yore,
Others all battle-scarred and torn,
Life broken by the fates of war,
Unto the homes that sing and mourn.

Strong in the right that makes men free,
Great in the love that makes men good,
They fought and died that men might see,
The justice of the Righteous God.

Then crowd the gates of welcome wide,
And hail with joy our heroes home,
Salute them all with grateful pride,
As gladly homeward, home they come.

And rear a monument sublime,
To all who fell and died and sleep,
Theirs is the glory of all time,
Ours their martyred faith to keep.

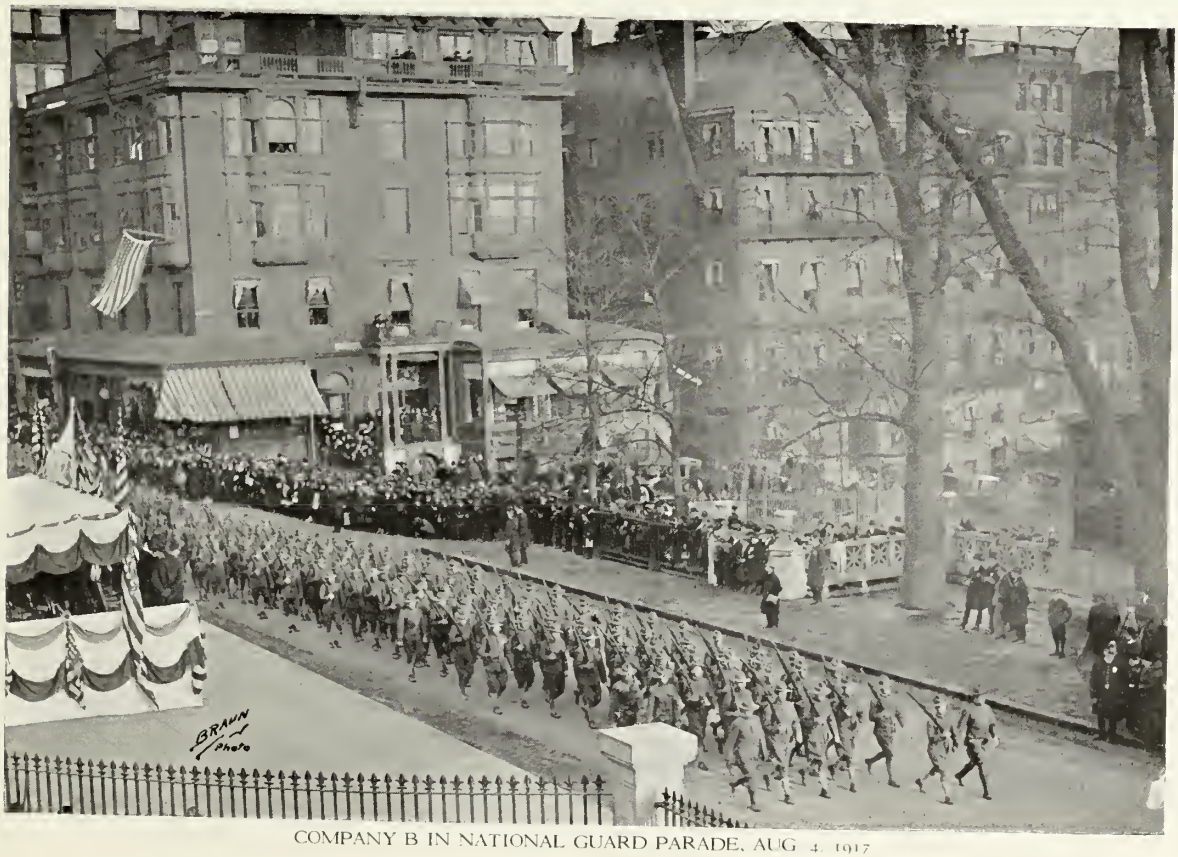
COMPANY B, ESCORT TO G. A. R., MEMORIAL DAY



COMPANY B IN NATIONAL GUARD PARADE, AUG 4, 1917

EVERETT HIGH SCHOOL NAVAL RESERVE UNIT

Before the declaration of war Everett High School boys, foreseeing the impending conflict, took steps to organize a coast patrol unit for enlistment in the U. S. N. R. F., for service in the First Naval District. Twelve of the boys enlisted as a unit, composing the first in the U. S. N. R. F. to be enlisted from any high school. They enlisted on April 5, 1917, the day before the declaration of war, and were called into active service on April 25.

As the preparations for coast defense materialized it developed that there was no necessity for as many coast patrol men as had been enlisted, and a call for enlistments for general service among these men was made. Nearly all responded and many of these boys from Everett High School served their country on transports and destroyers. Several of the boys were assigned to the Mt. Vernon and were with that transport throughout the war, experiencing the thrills of being torpedoed by an enemy submarine.

The boys comprising the first Everett High School unit were John E. Alcott, who was later transferred to the Harvard unit; Lawrence W. Allen, who later served on the Destroyer Stribling and Gunboat Topeka; Herbert F. Gramstorff, who saw duty overseas; H. L. Harding, who was assigned to coast patrol duty; Albert Jeffries and David M. Jeffries who were assigned to the Mt. Vernon; George W. Johnson, who was assigned to the destroyer service; Roger W. McEachern, Archie D. Osmond, James F. Reynolds, and Joseph F. Sullivan, who were all assigned to the Mt. Vernon; and Harold J. Spear, who was assigned to duty at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

EVERETT WELCOMES HOME COMPANY B FROM MEXICAN BORDER, NOVEMBER, 1916

COMPANY B, 8th REGIMENT
MASSACHUSETTS VOLUNTEER MILITIA

AT the time of the Spanish War—1898–1899, Everett had no military organization. The young men of the city who were attracted by military life, saw and understood their military duty to the Commonwealth, and wanted to do their bit, were forced to join militia companies in other cities.

Thus our military men who saw service in that war went out with companies from Malden, Charlestown, Chelsea or other neighboring cities.

Upon the return of these men, and through their spirit and efforts, the idea that this city should have its own military company was early promulgated, found proper support, and thus Company B, 8th Regiment, M. V. M., came into being.

The Company was organized and mustered in service in Glendon Hall, now Elks' Home, on the 20th of March, 1900. The early drilling was in this hall, in the streets, and in the basement of City Hall. In May, 1900, arrangements were made to use old Everett Hall in the wooden building which stood on the site of the present Associates' Building in Everett Square. Drills were held in Everett Hall until the new Armory was completed and ready for occupancy in March, 1903.

The original officers of the Company were Captain E. Leroy Sweetser, 1st Lieutenant Charles H. Hillman, 2nd Lieutenant George A. Kyle.

Company B made its first appearance in public on May 30, 1900, as part of the Memorial Day Parade. The Company also had its first camp at Framingham the summer of 1900.

Among the activities of the Company appear the following events of historical importance in which the Company participated:

National maneuvers at Manassas, 1904, under Captain Sweetser.

Guard duty at Chelsea Fire, 1908, under Captain Kyle.

Army maneuvers on Cape Cod, 1909, under Captain Kyle.

Guard duty, Lawrence strike, 1912, under Captain Kyle.

Guard duty at Salem Fire, 1914, under Captain Kyle.

Guard duty on Mexican Border, 1916, under Captain Sawin.

Mustered in U. S. Service August 5, 1917, for World War Officers: Captain Lewis P. Sawin, 1st Lieutenant Bernard M. Berry, 2nd Lieutenant Thomas Livingston.

EVERETT'S FIRST BIG DRAFT QUOTA — WITH A SMILE. SEPTEMBER 21, 1917

EVERETT QUOTA DETRAINING AT CAMP DEVENS, SEPTEMBER, 1917

CITIZENSHIP AND THE JEW

BY RABBI HYMAN SOLOMON

JEWS of this land share in the joy of all other Americans in celebrating the birthday of the Father of this country. Washington, the hero of the Revolution, the symbol of America's determination to be free, strikes more than a sympathetic chord in the heart of the Jew. For early in his history, the Jew announced to the world in unmistakable terms, that mankind was meant to be free and that no people had a right to enslave the body or soul of another. The deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage was a clarion call which tyrants even today are compelled to heed. The Jew has known only too well what the violation of this principle of freedom has meant. For thousands of years the Jew has been the plaything of nations, has suffered persecution, simply because he would not surrender his convictions or prove untrue to his belief in the freedom of thought of all peoples.

How pure and how unmixed is the pleasure of Jewish participation in this patriotic event. For not only has the ancient Hebrew prophet taught the citizen his duty to his country, but all Jewish history is a record of the Jew's loyalty to the land that sheltered him. Particularly has this been true of the American Jew.

America founded by the Puritans on the principles enunciated in the Old Testament, has embodied those ideas and ideals for which the Jew has ever been battling. When the prophet Malachi said: "Have we not all one father? Hath not one God created us?" he laid down the concept that all men, descended as they are from one father, are brothers. This conception has been the keynote of America's policy. All peoples have found a haven of refuge upon these hospitable shores. Rich and poor have been afforded the opportunity of working out their own destiny. Is it any wonder then that it was America's privilege, standing as it did for the brotherhood of man, to step forth as the champion and demand the incorporation of Isaiah's prophecy in the relationship of people to people? "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." There must be no more bloodshed; human life is sacred; the instruments of destruction must be converted into instruments for conserving human life and promoting happiness.

Every one acquainted with the moral and ethical systems of the various races is impressed with the insistence on the ideal of justice with which Jewish sacred writings are saturated. "Justice, Justice shalt thou pursue," says the great lawgiver, Moses. Justice, in our relations with one another, between all classes, has been the keynote of the Jew's faith. The American Jew glories in his citizenship. America in affording him the opportunity to be true to himself, contributes to its own greatness.

OFF TO CAMP DEVENS, OCT. 5, 1917

OFF TO CAMP — NOT A BIT DOWN-HEARTED

"THERE are countless other things of which I might write, did space and time permit, of my pilgrimage along that zigzag stretch of mud and blood known as the western front.

"But the recollection which remains the clearest and the brightest in my memory, when all is said and done, is not of the great French marshal, nor of the glittering pageants, nor the streams of prisoners, nor the shell-torn cathedrals, nor the avenues of captured cannons, but rather of the American boys — boys from Boston and New York and Philadelphia, from Seattle and San Francisco and San Diego, and from all the cities and towns and hamlets in between — the boys who have offered everything they had to offer that you and I, my friends, might live in security and peace. I saw them, these fellow-countrymen of ours, in many places and under many conditions; I saw them in camps and hospitals and barracks, in mud and snow and rain; no matter where I saw them, no matter how plainly I read in their eyes that they were sick with longing for the homeland, they were always cheerful, courageous and uncomplaining. No wonder that despite all the mistakes of our generals and the blunders of our military system here at home, these clean-cut, clean-minded, smiling boys have won for America the respect and affection of her allies. After seeing our soldiers in the field, I am prouder than ever to call myself an American. God bless 'em!"

(Extract from Speech of Congressman Fuller in Washington, March 3, 1919)

OUR SWEDISH CITIZENS

By CARL H. JOHNSON

WITHOUT being guilty of comparing any of the different nationalities composing the population of the United States, I venture to say that the Swedish people in America stand pre-eminent in many respects. The man from Sweden comes here equipped with varied training, ready to wrestle with the conditions he encounters, and in an incredibly short time he is found in positions of importance in industrial, mechanical and other lines of human pursuits.

Not this alone, but he seems to carry with him a certain wholesome ruggedness, a sense of sincerity and loyalty. He quickly accustoms himself to the ways of his adopted country and to its language. His peculiar makeup and his love of freedom have made him a more important factor and contributor in the building of the great Republic and what it stands for than is realized by the mere casual observer.

Way back in 1632 his ancestors under the leadership of Gustavus Adolphus fought and bled in foreign lands for religious liberty and for the oppressed, and this love of freedom and liberty has been handed down to him from generation to generation for centuries as an heirloom by those who have preceded him.

As a patriotic citizen the Swedish American has always shown his readiness to do his duty. His loyalty in the various American wars, and the great numbers of his race that participated in the last and terrible world war and who rendered distinguished service on the battlefield, present a record that any people in our country might well be proud of.

COMPANY K, 11th REGIMENT INFANTRY MASSACHUSETTS STATE GUARD

IN April, 1916, through the foresight of General Sweetser, Captain Sawin, and Lieutenants Berry and Livingston of this city, a "Business Men's Military Training Class" was organized in the Everett Armory.

Military drill was immediately begun under the supervision of Captain Sawin and Officers of Company B. Uniforms were purchased individually by the members of the class.

The first appearance of the class in public was in the Preparedness Parade in Boston early in May, 1916, when the class was able to show a full platoon, and marched under the command of Captain Sawin.

Weekly drills were held under the National Guard Officers until Company B was called out to prepare to go to Texas for duty on the Mexican Border. Despite the loss of these officers, a loyal nucleus of the class stuck together and maintained its existence through the summer and fall of 1916, and the early months of 1917.

When it seemed probable the Commonwealth would organize a State Guard to replace the National Guard during its absence, members of the class voted unanimously to request Major George A. Kyle, M. V. M. (Retired), to assume the leadership of the class, and Major Kyle took command, and through a lively recruiting campaign built up the membership to such a point that on May 16, 1917, a company of 75 men, all of whom had some military training, were mustered in the service of the State of Massachusetts as the 40th Company, Massachusetts State Guard.

The Officers of the new company were: Captain George A. Kyle, 1st Lieutenant John A. Corliss, 2nd Lieutenant Winfield S. Hamlin.

The first public appearance of the company, uniformed and equipped as Massachusetts State Guard, was on Memorial Day, 1917, as escort to James A. Perkins Post, G. A. R.

Early in July, 1917, Captain Kyle was called for service in the National Guard, and Lieutenant Corliss made Captain, Lieutenant Hamlin 1st Lieutenant, and 1st Sergeant Herman A. Black made 2nd Lieutenant. In August Lieutenant Hamlin went on leave to enter U. S. Service, his resignation becoming effective December 14, when Lieutenant Black was made 1st Lieutenant, and 1st Sergeant William Gess 2nd Lieutenant.

August 1, 1917, the organization of the State Guard was completed, and the 40th Company was assigned as Company K, 11th Regiment Infantry, M. S. G., in the 3rd Battalion, Colonel Charles Pfaff commanding the Regiment, Major Walter L. Pratt commanding the Battalion.

December 14, 1917, Company K was called for Federal Guard duty on the East Boston water front, and performed with credit a tour of duty from December 14 to December 21.

July 19, 1918, the Company went into camp at Framingham for a five days' camp tour. In the absence of Major Pratt, Captain Corliss was assigned in command of the Battalion, leaving the Company in command of Lieutenant Black.

July 26, 1918, Captain Corliss was appointed Major and assigned to command the 3rd Battalion, 11th Regiment, vice Pratt resigned. Lieutenant Black was promoted to Captain. Lieutenant Gess to 1st Lieutenant, and 1st Sergeant Charles C. Long made 2nd Lieutenant.

The Company has participated in all the local parades, and, in Boston, in the Liberty Loan Parade, April, 1918, Victory Parade, November, 1918, as part of the Guard during the visit of President Wilson, February, 1919, and as part of the Guard for the parade of the 26th Yankee Division, April 25, 1919.

An interesting feature of the duty performed by the Company was the voluntary participation in the experimental war balloon flights from High School Field the week of February 18 to 23, 1918. The guard duty performed at this time made these trials a complete success, while a previously attempted trial flight in another locality had been interfered with and the experimental balloon destroyed. As the result of the Everett trial flight, the experimental model was approved by Captain Baldwin, U. S. Aero officer detailed for the inspection, and the production of the model in large numbers immediately got under way, for use as observation balloons overseas.

ITALY'S PROBLEMS

By LIEUT. VITTORIO ORLANDINI

THE ITALIANS of Everett, New England and America look back with considerable pride upon the work that they have accomplished in this country during the war just passed. We do not refer to our contribution from a motive of vanity, because we know that all of the other great nationalities represented in the United States have also gloriously contributed to the wonderful victory for liberty and humanity. But we do feel that no other national group in this country has surpassed in generosity and in patriotic accomplishment the people of Italian descent in America.

The Italians have been eager to show their patriotism and their devotion to the great cause for which the United States entered the war; for the Italians, at home and abroad, have always burned with the ardor of liberty and justice for the oppressed of the earth.

Having given without thought of sacrifice all that they possessed to crush the beast of tyranny, the people of Italy have found themselves cruelly shaken by adversities, now that the transition from war to a state of peace has come about; but they are undaunted, nevertheless, in their determination to resume the development of their natural resources.

Italy has a great many problems to solve in the years before her — probably greater in many particulars than those of any other of the Allied nations; but with a will to rise above her difficulties and inspired by the overwhelming triumph of right and justice, she will go forward with greater strides than ever before, towards the fulfillment of her national destiny.

The only thing that Italy does not need at this moment is labor. Rapid demobilization provides the country with more men than her industries can rapidly absorb, and the gradual shutting up of the war industries turns loose a large surplus of unskilled laborers who are unwilling to resume their former unprofitable occupations. Italy must develop industrially, and the present time is particularly favorable for that purpose. The country needs great quantities of raw materials, and she has only the United States to look to, as her source of supply. There will be closer relations, commercial and economic, between Italy and America than ever before. That condition has long been the desire of our countrymen in Europe as well as in the United States, and we shall rejoice when these stronger bonds between the two great countries are forged.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

By His Excellency CALVIN COOLIDGE, Governor

A PROCLAMATION

WORKS which endure come from the soul of the people. The mighty in their pride walk alone to destruction. The humble walk hand in hand with Providence to immortality. Their works survive. When the people of the colonies were defending their liberties against the might of kings, they chose their banner from the design set in the firmament through all eternity. The flags of the great empires of that day are gone, but the stars and stripes remain. It pictures the vision of a people whose eyes were turned to the rising dawn. It represents the hope of a father for his posterity. It was never flaunted for the glory of royalty, but to be born under it is to be a child of a king and to establish a home under it is to be the founder of a royal house. Alone of all flags it expresses the sovereignty of the people which endures when all else passes away. Speaking with their voice it has the sanctity of revelation. He who lives under it and is loyal to it is loyal to truth and justice everywhere. He who lives under it and is disloyal to it is a traitor to the human race everywhere. What could be saved if the flag of the American nation were to perish?

In recognition of these truths and out of a desire born of a purpose to defend and perpetuate them, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has by ordinance decreed that for one day of each year their importance should be dwelt upon and remembered. Therefore, in accordance with that authority, the anniversary of the adoption of the national flag, the 14th day of June next, is set apart as

FLAG DAY

GOVERNOR COOLIDGE

THE RETURN OF THE MAYFLOWER

DOWN the sparkling Channel,
Out of Plymouth Sound,
What gallant little craft is this
Making outward bound?

Who crowd along her taffrail
To look their last on home,
While the seas beneath her forefoot
Are trampled into foam.

And in the morning sunlight
Her last sail is unfurled?
She's the Mayflower out from Plymouth,
Bound for the New World.

What cargo does she carry,
And what port will she make?
She has a hundred souls on board
Would die for conscience' sake.

And she will come to anchor
On a far Western beach,
By God's grace, past the farthest bounds
That tyranny can reach.

No Argo ever carried,
No pilgrim ever planned,
A more sublime adventure
Than this exalted band.

They bear the flower of England,
To plant it over sea—
The holy seed of Runnymede
That men call Liberty.

And lo, that magic blossom
Shall flourish and increase,
To glad the souls of all mankind,
And fill the world with peace.

Warm are the Devon Moorlands
In the September sun,
And over the dim unknown sea-rim
The Mayflower is gone.

II

LOOMING up the Channel,
Making Plymouth Sound,
What man-of-war is this that comes
Racing, victory bound?

Speeding as to battle,
On she comes amain,
Swift as an eagle's shadow
Across the summer plain.

In power and in beauty
Commanding on the seas,
She leads a stranger battle line —
What men, what ships are these?

Look, where she flies her colors —
The white and crimson bars,
The ensign of the Rights of Man,
The Glory of the Stars!

To cheers that give her welcome
What answer will she make?
Hark to her thousand souls on board
Would die for freedom's sake!

Back from the ports of promise
Beyond the Western sea,
These are the breed of Runnymede,
The Sons of Liberty.

To stay the ancient altars,
To guard the ports of home,
For freedom still as God may will,
The Mayflower is come.

THE DEBT

FOR the youth they gave and the blood they gave,
For the strength that was our stay,
For every marked or nameless grave
On the steel-torn Flanders way—
We who are whole of body and soul
We have a debt to pay.

When we have justly given back again
To the maimed body and bewildered brain,
New strength and light and will to take one's part
In the world's work at field or desk or mart,
When this old joy of living we restore,
We shall have paid a little of our score.

When we have given to earth's stricken lands
The service of our minds and hearts and hands,
When we have made the blackened orchards bright,
And brought the homeless ones to warmth and light,
When we have made these desolate forget,
We shall have paid a little of our debt.

For the youth they gave and the blood they gave
We must render back the due;
For every marked or nameless grave
We must pay with a service true;
Till the scales stand straight with even weight
And the world is a world made new.

OF OLD SAT FREEDOM ON THE HEIGHTS

OF old sat Freedom on the heights,
The thunders breaking at her feet;
Above her shook the starry lights;
She heard the torrents meet.

There in her place she did rejoice,
Self-gather'd in her prophet-mind,
But fragments of her mighty voice
Came rolling on the wind.

Then stepped she down thro' town and field
To mingle with the human race,
And part by part to men reveal'd
The fulness of her face—

Grave mother of majestic works,
From her isle-altar gazing down,
Who, Godlike, grasps the triple forks,
And, king-like, wears the crown.

Her open eyes desire the truth.
The wisdom of a thousand years
Is in them. May perpetual youth
Keep dry their light from tears;

That her fair form may stand and shine,
Make bright our days and light our dreams,
Turning to scorn with lips divine
The falsehood of extremes!

THE SUICIDE FLEET

OH, you painted your hull like an Easter egg,
And you filled your bunkers with coal,
And you waved good-bye to Mollie and Meg,
Though you waved without seeing a soul;

You slipped from your moorings as still as you please—
And you're only a little craft—
But you put your nose to the wildest seas,
And the battleships thought you daft,
Daft — the battleships thought you daft!

"Not worth a torpedo;" is that what they say,
When a hit would blow you sky high?
But you search by night, and you convoy by day;
You drop depth-charges and hurry away,
And listen — was that a cry?

You pick up a dozen shivering men;
You challenge each trawler you meet;
You come into port, and you go out again
And you drink your punishment neat.
I guess that was what they were thinking when
They named you the Suicide Fleet.

Oh, your harlequin sides have encountered strange tides—
You're a rickety little craft—
But there's nowhere a braver sail that rides,
And what if the battleships laughed?
Many and many a time alone
You have done your task in the danger zone—
And the battleships called you daft.
Daft!—Did the battleships call you daft?

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF EVERETT

BY ELMER E. SPEAR

MYSTIC-SIDE, the name by which that territory now known as Everett and Malden was first designated, originally lay within the territorial limits of Charlestown. It was a wild but beautiful country composed of many hills, thickly wooded, and peopled only by Indians. The extreme southern section lay along the banks of the beautiful Mystic River, which twisted and turned along its course like a huge silver snake gliding slowly to the sea, and it was from its situation that the territory derived its name.

A tribe of Indians, the last of the Pawtuckets under Sagamore John, their chief, pitched their tepees among the trees on a point of land projecting into the marshlands which bordered the Mystic and close to a short tributary, so tradition tells us. Later this point came to be known as Beecham Point, which long since has lost its historic picturesqueness in the advance of modern industry, for now standing almost on the same spot are the monstrous works of the New England Gas & Coke Co., one of the largest in the world.

From the Mystic, the land gradually sloped upward until it rose sharply into hills. Three of these beautiful eminences, upon which grew lofty timber, nestled closely together, separated only by narrow valleys. The highest of these was the most easterly and later became known as Mt. Washington. More to the westward was a long hill to which was later given the name of Belmont Hill, and just beyond to the northeast and lying somewhat between the hills already mentioned, rose a third with its tall trees reaching their beautiful limbs skyward. This prominence much later became known as Corbett Hill. These three hills with their slopes composed, for the most part what is now known as Everett.

MODERN PROGRESS

In the many changes which have taken place the topography of the city has been lost sight of. These beautiful hills have been stripped of their trees; the brooklets which trickled down their sides have long since ceased their music; the bubbling spring, once famous as a trysting place, with its crystal waters shaded by drooping willows, where the youth of the early days were wont to stroll, was robbed of its picturesqueness by modern commercialism.

The picturesque wigwam has given its place to the towering gas tanks; the woodland paths and lanes to modern streets paved with macadam or granite block; the darkness of the woodland to the glare of city lights supplied by a mysterious power, then unknown; and the scattered houses of the early settlers have been replaced by more than 5,000 modern dwellings, giving homes to a population of approximately 40,000 intelligent and God-fearing people.

One thing remains unchanged, however. In spite of the rapid adaptation to city life, never has the licensed saloon been permitted to contaminate the moral atmosphere of the community.

EXPLORATION AND SETTLEMENT

"Settled in 1630." This we are told by the municipal seal. Nevertheless there is some doubt as to the exact date of settlement. Ex-Representative Dudley P. Bailey in his historic sketch of Everett published in the "Everett Souvenir" in 1893, to which we are indebted for many of the facts relative to the city's early history, found that as early as 1629 the territory in which we live was explored. Ralph Sprague, who landed in Salem in 1628, came to Charlestown the following year, and with two brothers ventured across the river into the wilderness of Mystic-Side. He described it as an "uncouth wilderness" covered by "stately timber."

Whether or not he settled here is not known, but others soon came, for the Charlestown "Book of Possessions" is authority for the statement that the first allotment of land was in 1634. Six years later a "penny ferry" was established, and from then until the opening of the first Malden bridge, Sept. 29, 1787, this was maintained. The "town of Malden" was set off from Charlestown May 16, 1649.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

A hand engine, "General Taylor," was the first piece of fire apparatus in this district. It was purchased by the town of Malden for South Malden in 1846 at a cost of $1,800. A four-wheeled hose carriage was added in 1872. A steam fire engine was purchased May 30, 1878, which was succeeded by a larger one 13 years later. A light hand hook-and-ladder wagon was purchased in 1865, and this was succeeded by a two-horse ladder truck in 1892. The electric fire alarm system was installed March 12, 1885. There were then 12 boxes; now there are 77.

John Stimpson was the first fire chief, serving from 1867 until his death in 1871. He was followed by Joseph Swan (deceased) 1871 to 1890, Columbus Corey 1891, 1892, 1894, Warren Card 1893, 1894, John A. Loring 1896, 1897, Fletcher A. Sutherland (deceased) 1898 to 1908; Joseph T. Swan 1908, and has since held the position. Philip Ham is assistant chief, appointed in 1908. There are 41 regular men and 10 on call.

The other officers of the department are as follows: Captains George E. Hatch, Berkett Hunt, Obed DeChamp, William Craig and John A. Cameron; Lieutenants Elmer E. Gertz, Amasa Johnson, Charles Delorey and Theodore Parker. The equipment of the department consists of one big Seagraves auto pump of 110 horsepower and capable of delivering 1,600 gallons per minute through four direct lines of hose, a La France motor combination hose wagon and chemical, one motor hose wagon, one horse-drawn ladder truck and the chief's automobile, all located at the Central Fire Station on Broadway; one Knox motor combination hose and chemical truck and a reserve horse-drawn chemical truck at Engine Two House on Ferry Street, corner of Elm Street; one horse-drawn ladder truck and one horse-drawn hose wagon at the Hancock Street House, and one horse-drawn steam pump in reserve at the Central Station.

POST OFFICE

A post office was established at South Malden, when Solomon Corey was appointed the first postmaster, Jan. 17, 1852. He opened the office in Uriah Oakes' store, still standing at the corner of Broadway and Chelsea Street. House deliveries were instituted Nov. 1, 1890, with four carriers. On July 2, 1900, Everett became a part of the Boston postal district. The postmasters have been as follows: Solomon Corey 1852–1857, James Dix 1857–1858, George W. Chase 1858–1859, Davis N. Badger 1859–1867 and 1870–1871, Joseph Gerrish 1865–1869, George E. Kimball 1871–1872, Dr. James B. Everett (first postmaster), 1886–1890, Charles Manser (now superintendent of the South Postal Station, Boston, and member Everett school board) 1890–1894, Woodbury A. Ham 1894–1911, Charles Manser 1911 to date.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

The first school established in South Malden was on April 7, 1800. It was located at the corner of Hancock Street and Broadway. The site cost $20 and the building $300. In 1849–1850 the school appropriation for the South West district, now Everett, was $754.84. In 1918 the Everett schools cost $273,101.45 for maintenance. The total valuation of school buildings now in use in this city is $931,875, with $109,279 additional for land, a total of $1,041,154. Furniture, textbooks, apparatus and material worth $79,330 brings the total valuation of school property up to $1,120,484.

There are 20 school buildings and four one-room portable schoolhouses now in use, with a total of 199 rooms used for classes. The teaching force Jan. 1, 1919, consisted of 29 male and 228 female teachers, a total of 257 including the evening school faculty. The average cost per pupil in 1918 for school maintenance was $36.87. The total number of pupils is 7,377. The estimated cost of schools for 1919 is nearly $320,000.

The chairmen of the school board have been as follows: James G. Foster 1870, J. H. Whitman 1871, George S. Marshall 1872 and 1876–1878, Adams B. Cook 1873, Albert W. Lewis 1874 and 1903–1906, J. H. HISTORICAL SKETCH OF EVERETT

DESIRE FOR SEPARATION

A desire for separation from Malden was apparent as early as 1729, and in 1737 the first step was accomplished when it was set off as the South Parish. The old parsonage of the South Parish, built in 1747 or earlier, still stands on Main Street opposite Beacon Street. The next step toward separation was the setting off of the South School District, which succeeded the South Parish in 1799.

Meanwhile the South Parish had played its part in the Revolution and had sent men under Capt. Benjamin Blaney to Lexington and other battles. The school district entitled South Malden to a schoolhouse of its own, and this was built on April 7, 1800, at the corner of what is now Hancock Street and Broadway, where the former residence of the late Ex-Mayor A. H. Evans now stands. For 42 years this building was used.

In 1842 the South District was changed to the South West District and a new schoolhouse built on the site of the present Central Fire Station. This was much larger than the first and two stories high. It burned Feb. 27, 1846, at 1 A. M., but was replaced the following summer by one still larger, which was known as the Centre School. This was remodelled in 1871, partly burned in 1875, and was repaired. In the Fall of 1899 it was abandoned for school purposes and converted into the old Central Fire Station. It was used as such until ten years ago, when the new station was built and the old one torn down.

In 1848 the agitation for separation revived. From time to time several unsuccessful attempts were made to have South Malden incorporated the town of Winthrop. Before the successful petition for separation was presented the General Court in 1870, the present town of Winthrop had been incorporated, and South Malden was forced to seek another name for its town. The name Everett was chosen in honor of the statesman Edward Everett.

THE TOWN INCORPORATED

March 9, 1870, was the date of the incorporation of the new town. On March 21, the first town meeting was held in the vestry of the First Congregational Church. Alonzo H. Evans was chosen moderator, and Joseph H. Cannell town clerk. Mr. Cannell has ever since served as town and city clerk, being the oldest in point of service in the state.

In 1842 there were 81 dwellings in South Malden. In 1870 there were 414. The taxable valuation of the new town was $1,736,379 and the population 2,220. In 1875 the town had grown to 3,651 population and a valuation of $4,404,650.

The chairmen of the boards of selectmen of the town were: W. H. Lounsbury 1870–1871, Columbus Corey 1872–1876, Woodbury A. Ham 1877, C. F. Atwood 1878, Woodbury A. Ham 1879, Nathaniel J. Mead 1880, Woodbury A. Ham 1881–1882, George F. Foster 1883, Harden Palmer 1884, Isaac T. Winchester 1885, Lewis P. True 1886, Francis E. Dyer 1887–1890, John D. Henderson 1891, and Charles C. Nichols 1892. The board of selectmen consisted of five members until 1875, after which it consisted of three.

Daniel Emmons was the first town treasurer and collector, and held that position until Jan. 1, 1880. William Johnson was appointed by the selectmen to succeed him and held office until April, 1886. Joseph E. Nichols served from 1886 till 1889 when the present city treasurer and collector, Nathan Nichols, was elected, holding the position ever since.

EVERETT, THE CITY

On June 11, 1892, the bill passed by the legislature incorporating the city of Everett was signed by Governor William E. Russell. The charter was accepted by the citizens at a special election July 18, 1892. The first municipal election was held Dec. 13, 1892. Alonzo H. Evans and George E. Smith were candidates for mayor, the former winning by 189 in more than 2,300 votes cast. The city council elected Frank T. Pettingill, city messenger, which position he has ever since held. The mayors of Everett have been as follows Alonzo H. Evans (deceased) 1893, Francis Batchelder 1894, John S. Cate (deceased) 1895 and 1897, John D. Henderson (deceased) 1896, Francis E. Dyer 1898, Arthur W. Hatch 1899, Charles C. Nichols 1900–1901, Charles Bruce 1902–1903 and 1908–1910, Thomas J. Boynton 1904 and 1906–1907, H. Heustis Newton 1905, Herbert P. 1916, John J. Mullen 1917, William E. Weeks 1918–1919. The population of the city, according to the 1910 census, was 33,474, and it is now estimated as approximately 40,000. The valuation of property is $11,023,500 in land and $21,777,300 in building, a total of $32,800,800 in real estate and $6,252,900 personal, a total valuation of $39,053,700. There were 5,861 dwellings in the city April 1, 1918. The number of polls assessed was 10,421.

COMMERCIAL ADVANTAGES

Situated as it is in the geographical centre of Greater Boston and only three miles from the heart of Boston's great business district, Everett has become popular as a city of homes and of industry. About this city within a radius of a few miles reside the more than 1,500,000 population of the "Real Boston," the fourth largest city in the United States.

AN INDUSTRIAL CENTRE

Always a clean, no-license city, Everett has attracted a population of law-abiding citizens who afford industrial concerns an abundance of reliable labor. The advantages of the city as an industrial centre have appealed to a vast number of large concerns, inducing them to locate here. A wide variety of manufactured articles are the product of Everett citizens. The enormous coke works, chemical works, and steel works border the banks of the Mystic and Malden Rivers, and located in various other sections of the city are large shoe shops, machine shops, steel structural works, and other numberless industries.

Five miles of water front skirt the southern and western borders of the sites for development. A little back from the river are the Portland division and Saugus branch tracks of the Boston & Maine R. R. and the Grand Junction tracks of the Boston & Albany. Thus easy transportation by both rail and water is afforded. Large ocean-going steamers ply regularly between the coke works in South Everett and southern and Canadian ports.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES

The public library was first supported by private enterprise. It was opened in what is now the Odd Fellows' Building May 1, 1879, with Miss Priscilla F. Hagar, librarian. The town took the library over May 3, 1880. Everett now has two libraries, the Shute and the Parlin. In 1891 William Shute of Lynn, a native of South Malden, left by will $10,000 to establish a library in the Glendale district, and the Shute Memorial library building on Broadway, corner of Gledhill Avenue, was the result. Albert N. Parlin, another South Malden man, gave to the town of Everett a deed of land and $5,000 for the erection of a memorial library to his son, Frederick E. Parlin. The building was to cost not less than $20,000, the town paying $15,000. The gift was accepted and the cornerstone was laid in 1894. The next year the library, which had been located in the Odd Fellows' Building, was moved into its own quarters. In 1910, Mr. Parlin contributed $5,000 toward building an addition to the library, and in 1918 and 1919 contributed $10,000 more toward the purchase of additional land. Miss Ellen L. Johnson is now librarian at the Parlin library, having served efficiently for a number of years. She has four assistants. At the Shute library Miss Pearl Purinton is librarian with two assistants.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The early police department of Everett consisted of three constables. Of these Capt. John H. Brown of the present department was one and Fred Melvin, a carrier at the local post office, another. The lock-up was originally situated in the old Masonic Building, Everett Square, but was later moved into a little wooden building formerly the fire station, standing on the site of the present police station. When the new building was built this was moved to Second Street, and is now occupied by the Everett Veteran Firemen's Association. The opening of the new building was on Thanksgiving Eve, 1903. The department is now composed of the following: Chief William E. Hill, Capt. William F. Monahan, Lieut. Edgar T. Palmer, Lieut. Herbert Card, Sergt. Harry Peel, Sergt. Insp. James Bruce, Sergt. Michael Flynn, Sergt. Charles Crocker, Sergt. James Richardson, 39 regular and 4 reserve men, and the matron, Mrs. Margaret Dares.

Samuel Emerton, who died at his home in Maine several years ago, was the first chief of police, holding the position many years. He was followed by A. Patterson, Thomas J. Hewitt,

EVERETT AS A HOME

While recent development of waste areas of this city has increased the importance of Everett in the industrial life of the country, this municipality always has been principally a city of homes. The bulk of its population finds employment in and around Boston, and turns to Everett, a clean, healthful and pleasant city, in which to secure relaxation and rest after day's business.

Although Everett's population is cosmopolitan, it is nevertheless thoroughly American. Every facility for the Americanization of the foreign born may be found here. More recent efforts to effect the elimination of foreign ideals and to inculcate the principles of American life, citizenship, and government have been fostered by Mayor William E. Weeks. The result has been the establishment of classes for the instruction of foreign speaking industrial workers at public expense.

Community gatherings in various schoolhouses have accomplished much in driving home our educational ideals. The patriotic pageant, planned by Mayor Weeks, and successfully carried out on July 4th, 1918, in which representatives of all nationalities participated, was the first big step towards compelling the interest of those of foreign birth in civic affairs.

Today Everett's citizens stand united in support of the national institutions. This could be demonstrated no more effectively than by the willing spirit shown by the more than 3,000 young men who responded to their country's call in the Great War. A glance at Everett's Honor Roll is convincing of the fact that men of almost every nativity went forth from this city to serve with the colors.

GENERAL TAYLOR

BY EX-CAPTAIN GEORGE HUEY

The General Taylor is a first-class Button hand engine with 10-inch cylinders. It was built for the Guardian Engine Co., No. 10, of New Haven, Conn., and received by that company April 11, 1859. It was superseded by a steam fire engine and retired from service in July, 1862. It was sold to the Union Engine Co. of Chatham, N. Y., and its name changed to Union. Some years later it was sold to Gravesend, Long Island, N. Y., where it was in service at Coney Island until that town was annexed to Brooklyn in 1894, when it was superseded by a steam fire engine. It was purchased of the Union Company of Gravesend for the Everett Veteran Firemen's Association by George Huey, and received at Everett, August 8, 1899. Its name was changed to General Taylor. It is not only one of the best muster hand engines, but it is one of the handsomest.

It had no muster record of importance before coming to Everett. Its general muster record, with prizes won since it has been in the possession of the Everett Veteran Firemen's Association, is as follows:

In fifty-four musters it has won 18 prizes, aggregating $2,100.00. It stands fourteenth in list of largest record hand engines. It made the best average record of season of 1906 with five records of over 200 feet, at six musters, and 10 out of 25 heats with over 200 feet each.

EVERETT SERVICE FLAG RAISED JULY 4, 1918

"Liberty Girls of 1917"

To Our Soldiers and Sailors

We may not pause to take your hand
When passing in a crowd,
We may not whisper words of cheer,
Or speak our thoughts aloud.
For no salute is given us,
No formal martial sign
That signals to the heart of you
Along some unseen line.
But think not that our silence means
A dearth of tender care;
We meet you face to face, oh lads,
And pass you with a prayer.
A prayer that leaves our souls aglow
With pride that such things be
That men like you would pledge their lives
For peace and liberty.
If so you fight on land or sea
Or strive where eagles call
We pass you, praying silently,
God bless you, one and all.

We completed eleven years of business activity in the City of Everett. From a small beginning in 1908 of a small stock and two employees we have grown until this year we opened our fine new store in Everett Square, with twelve employees, two automobile trucks and a large and complete stock of high grade merchandise. The volume of our business in the month just past is eight times the volume of business we did eleven years ago.
For all this we are deeply grateful to our many loyal friends and patrons and it will be our policy to so conduct our business as to merit the continuance of your patronage.
